Venue: SVCET, Seminar Hall

Mr. Avinash Sahukari delivered the source for beginning and sustaining a green economy by serving green products and services, presenting greener production techniques, enhancing demand for them, and building green jobs.

The concept of green entrepreneur rises from environmental concerns such as global warming, pollutions, scarcity of natural resources, ozone layer depletion, climate change and other disaster caused by the disruption in the ecosystem. A Review of the Costs and Benefits for Developers, Investors and Occupants, examines whether or not it's possible to attach a financial value to the cost and benefits of green buildings. Today, green buildings can be delivered at a price comparable to conventional buildings and investments can be recouped through operational cost savings and, with the right design features, create a more productive workplace.

Key findings are Design and Construction Costs Asset Value Operating Costs Workplace Productivity and Health Risk Mitigation. Green buildings are designed to reduce the overall impact of the built environment on human health and the natural environment by: Efficiently using energy, water, and other resources. Protecting occupant health and improving employee productivity, reducing waste, pollution and environmental degradation.

A total of 75 students participated in the program. Students got understanding in maintaining green cover for ecosystem balancing.
